CITIZENS BANK & TRUST BEGINS CONSTRUCTION ON NEW HEADQUARTERS IN GUNTERSVILLE

Guntersville, Ala, April 27--- Construction has begun on the new Citizens Bank and Trust building in Guntersville. The bid was awarded to Carmon Construction, Inc., located in Albertville, to construct the 35,000 square foot facility. The 3-story headquarters building will be located at 711 Gunter Avenue and will have drive-through access on Blount Avenue.

“We are thrilled to have arrived at this point and look forward to opening our new headquarters location,” said Citizens Bank and Trust CEO Mike Alred. “We are proud of the design and think it will be a great addition to downtown Guntersville.”

The year-long project just began in early April. The new facility will serve as corporate headquarters and as the operations base for the bank’s seven branches and two loan production offices.

One of the key features of the new building will be a community and training room plus an outdoor pavilion space.

“This new facility has been designed not simply as a home to Citizens Bank and Trust, but to be shared with our customers and the community,” said Citizens Bank and Trust President Charlie Williams. “We’ve been committed to our local communities since our inception, and we are hopeful this new facility further reflects that commitment.”

Citizens Bank and Trust has full-service branch locations in Albertville, Arab, New Hope, Hazel Green, Elkmont and Rogersville, plus a loan office in Cullman and in Oneonta. For more information visit www.citizensbanktrust.com or find Citizens Bank and Trust on Facebook, Twitter, or Instagram.
